Disclaimer

General

This website is managed by the Carnegie Foundation in The Hague.

The Carnegie Foundation compiles the information on this website with the greatest possible care. Nevertheless, it cannot be guaranteed that all information is complete, current, and free of errors. No rights may be derived from the content of this website.

Use of the Website

The information on this website is intended for the general provision of information regarding the activities, services, and facilities offered by or on behalf of the Carnegie Foundation, including the Peace Palace Library, the Visitors Centre, events, educational activities, and the webshop.

The Carnegie Foundation accepts no liability for direct or indirect damage arising from:

1. the use of this website;
2. reliance on information provided through this website;
3. inaccuracies, omissions, or outdated information;
4. temporary or permanent unavailability of the website;
5. malfunctions, viruses, or other technical deficiencies.

External Websites

The website may contain links to third-party websites. These links are provided for informational purposes only.

The Carnegie Foundation has no control over the content, availability, security, or privacy policies of such websites and accepts no responsibility or liability for them. The inclusion of a link does not mean that the Carnegie Foundation endorses the content, products, services, or views of third parties.

Webshop, Reservations and Events

Additional terms and conditions may apply to purchases through the webshop, reservations for visits, guided tours, events, or other services.

If additional terms and conditions apply to a specific service, those terms and conditions shall prevail over this disclaimer to the extent that there is any inconsistency.

Intellectual Property Rights

Unless otherwise stated, all intellectual property rights relating to the content of this website, including texts, images, logos, video material, databases, publications, and design, are vested in the Carnegie Foundation or the respective rights holders.

Without the prior written consent of the rights holder, material from this website may not be reproduced, made public, or otherwise used, except insofar as permitted by law.

Library Collections and Research Information

Information originating from the collections, catalogues, databases, and research services of the Peace Palace Library is made available with care. However, the Carnegie Foundation does not guarantee that this information is complete, current, or free of errors. Users remain responsible for verifying sources and research results.

Privacy and Cookies

When using this website, personal data may be processed and cookies or similar technologies may be used.

Further information is provided in the Privacy Statement and the Cookie Statement of the Carnegie Foundation (included in the Privacy Statement). These documents supplement this disclaimer but do not form part of it.

Amendments

The Carnegie Foundation reserves the right to amend this disclaimer and the content of the website at any time and without prior notice.

Applicable Law

This website and this disclaimer are governed by Dutch law. Disputes arising from the use of this website shall be submitted exclusively to the competent court in the Netherlands.
